CUMBERLAND – Newly renovated, it's got a catchy new name, a new blue awning with the name emblazoned on it, and some brand-spanking new washers and dryers.

Spin City Laundromat, at 3400 Mendon Road, opened under new management on Jan. 15.

Building on the success of the coin laundry business they opened in Milford, Mass., in 2005, also with the same name, Tee and Fred Maurer bought the former business, known most recently as Casey's Laundry, and previously as Hill Laundromat for 19 years.

"We are using our experience to upgrade the facility," he said, adding that he and his wife had looked at the local business a few years back when it was for sale but decided on the smaller operation in Milford.

When the Franklin, Mass., residents drove by and saw that the Mendon Road business was up for sale again, they decided to bring a "professionally-operated, high-quality laundry facility" to Cumberland, he said.

"We were always intrigued by this place," he continued, adding that the spot is in a good location.

The couple immediately started making improvements.

Besides a new coat of paint, new lighting, shelving, a ceiling fan, flooring and office space was added. There's also a flag flying to let folks know they're open.

There are more than 50 large-capacity washers and dryers, and more coming soon. The larger washers are great for big, bulky items like comforters.

Drop-off and pick-up service is available for those who want a break. Wash, dry and fold is popular with a lot of folks, they said. Dry cleaning is also offered.

Spin City Laundromat is open seven days a week from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m.
